

Editor's Choice

The Daniel Marshall Dominican Limited Reserve Robusto

Daniel Marshall has always been a craftsman of impeccable taste whose attention to detail and quality has produced some of the finest humidors in the world. It comes as no surprise that he has recently unveiled more than a bundle of winners with his recent cigar making efforts. The one I've smoked is the Dominican Robusto (5x50) and it is absolutely wonderful! After smoking just one each, Robert and I immediately rushed out and bought a couple of boxes for fear of a run on the market and we're smoking like kings now. Each DM cigar is entirely handmade from aged Cuban seed long filler and binder tobacco and handsomely wrapped in Connecticut shade. A powerful good smoke from a powerful good sense of taste, elegance, and fire!